This year our student body produced five of the most ravishing females ever to grace our illustrious school.

The Queen and Court are joined by the Jesters

Smilen' Faces

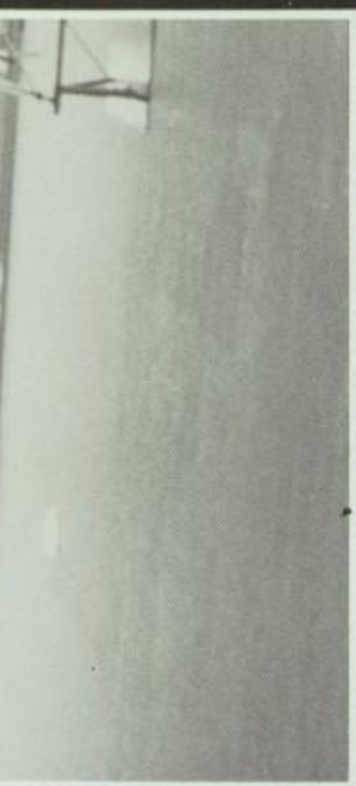

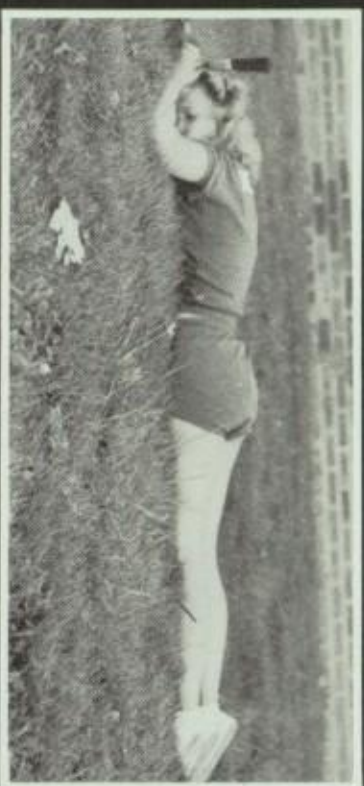

And Now For Something

by the way, I have a few more of the same kind of things if you want them.

Can You Say Different?

And now for something completely different . . . you want different, not your run-of-the-mill different, BIZARRE even?

Okay. It's yours.

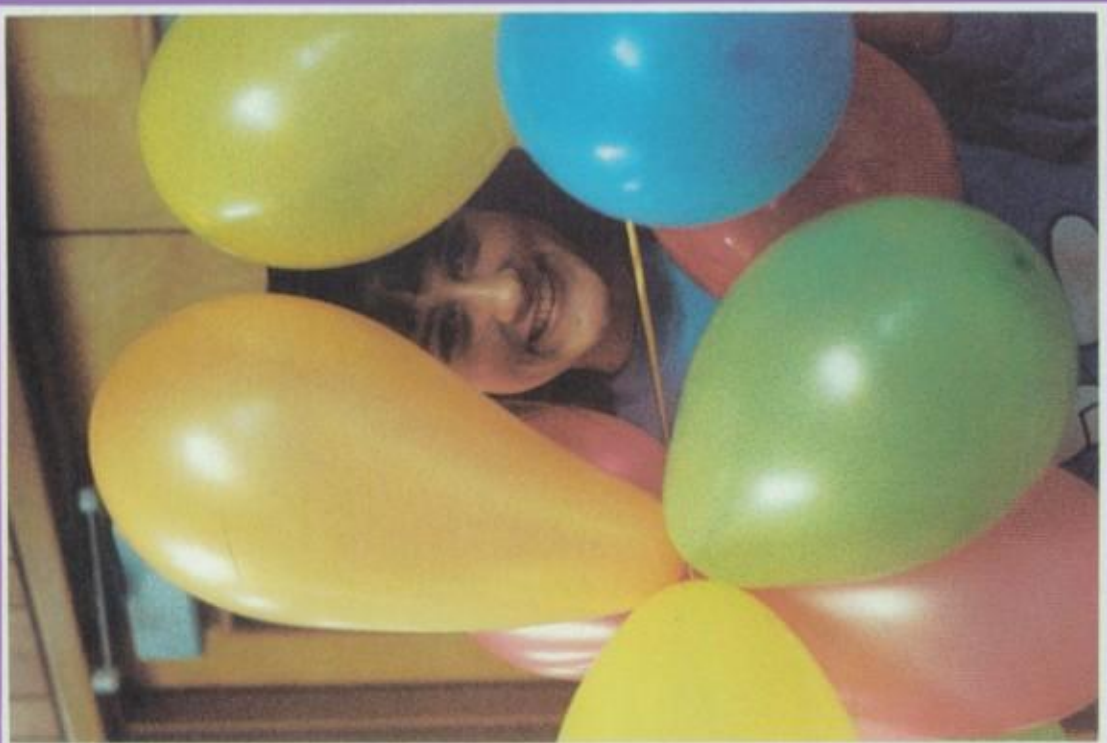

What we have here as our excuse for a staff are social misfits! We're talking severely estranged from normally accepted lines of behavior. You doubt the sincerity of our infant establishment? We're so weird we didn't use any film in the annual "84" pictures!

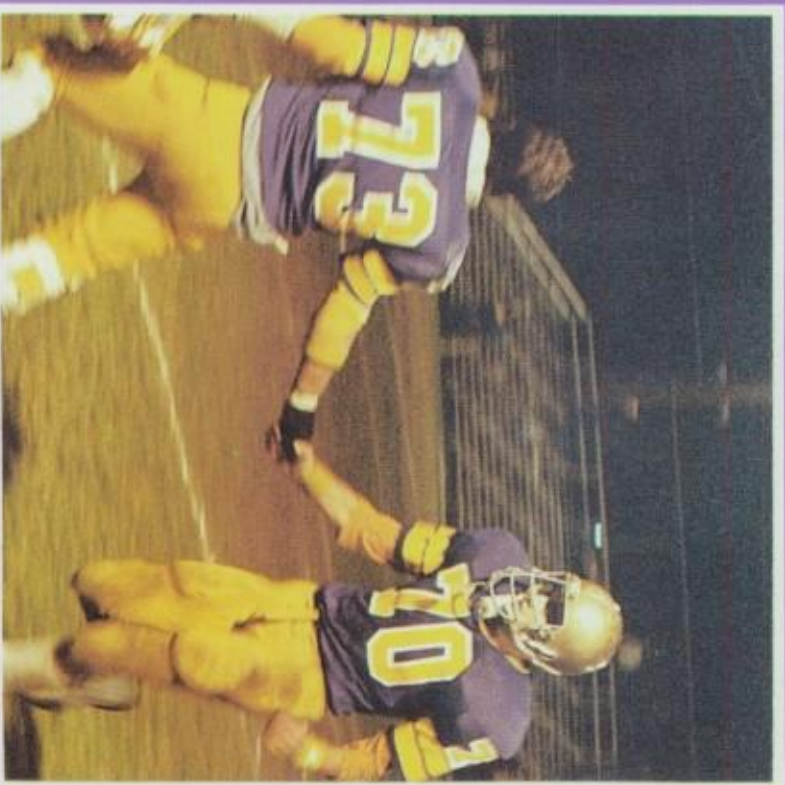

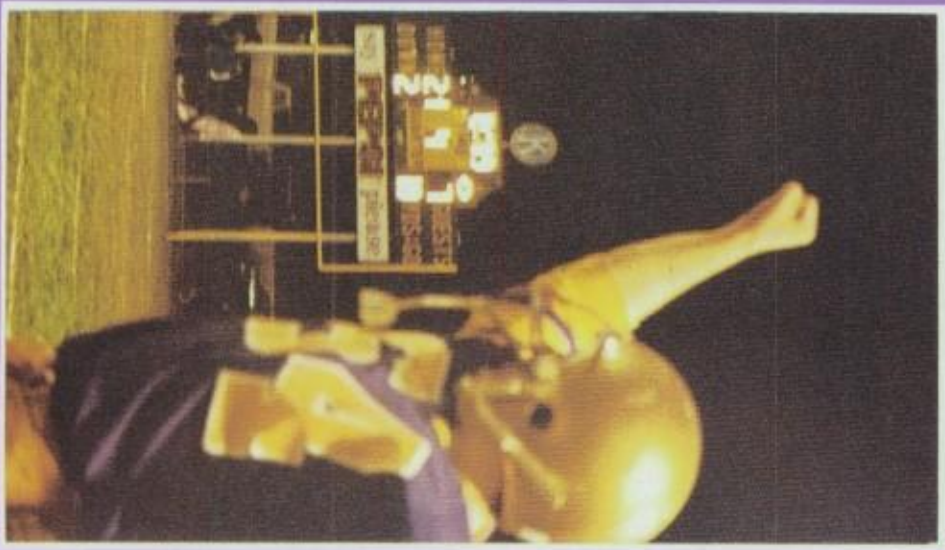

This year's answer to super heroes, Bengal Man (said affectionately in the same breath as "Kinky Tail"), had to be restrained from devouring the Clarkston Bantam as an appetizer. Oh, by the way, did you hear about the kidnapping of a certain French teacher who was subjected to a belly dancer with all the right moves and all the wrong odors? How many of you have gazed proudly at the "LX-XXIV" in the parking lot while a decidedly refreshing wind blew up your toga? (Definitely Roman). Let's hear it for the fine achievers of tomorrow with "Miss Piggy" and "God Bless America" lunch pails. Football players, do you remember the bonuses of a cheerleader or two on every game film?

We the Yearbook Staff, decided to top all this off with a completely different yearbook . . .

ALBERTSON, ROD THOMAS
J.V., Football

*And Now for . . .
Katherine Willard*

Kathy's whole life is high-level energy. She has been ASB Vice-President, Junior Homecoming Princess, and Homecoming Chairman. She also was first runner up in the Junior Miss pageant. Kathy is merely an "event waiting for a place to happen." It is easy to see why Kathy is well-liked by all.

*And Now for . . .
Chadwyck Stoianoff*

Chad's winning personality helped him get through a tough Junior year, his first at LHS. His efforts to be friendly with everyone paid off when he was elected ASB President. Chad is a skillful, and trustworthy representative of our school. He is well-liked among his peers.

*And Now for . . .
Christine Cihak*

"Talent" is the adjective that best describes Chris. She is the ASB Treasurer, High School Bowl Captain, National Honor Society President, and a Valedictorian. Her capability on the High School Bowl team last year helped the team go to national competition. She is active in many aspects of high school life.

*And Now for . . .
Roderick Hinman*

Rod may be called "the epitome of perfection," but he never lets his success go to his head. His athletic ability is apparent on the track and cross country fields. Rod is a strong, but silent leader. He was elected Vice-President of National Honor Society, President of French Club, Captain of the cross country team, as well as being a Valedictorian.

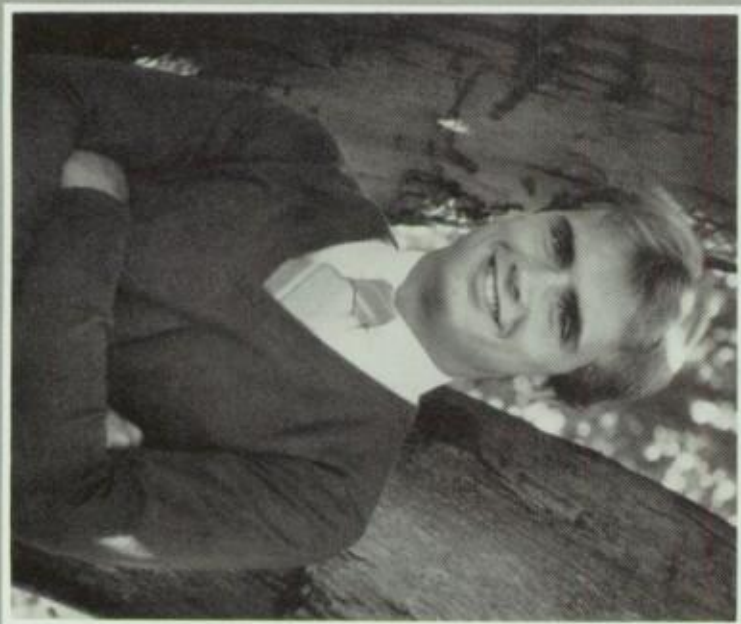

The Class of 1984

*And Now for . . .
Amanda Sprague*

ASB Parliamentarian, Drama, National Honor Society, Thespians, and Sophomore Homecoming Princess are among the activities Mandy has taken part in. She is a very "with-it" person. Her frequent successes are evidence of her achieving ability.

*And Now for . . .
Shannon Coy*

A fun, easy-going guy with lots of charisma, Shannon knows how to relax a crowd. Shannon's display of leadership won him the positions of Sophomore and Junior class President. These offices saw him leading the class to high points of spirit during Homecoming, and other times throughout the years. With his relaxed manner, he has won the approval and esteem of all at the high school.

*And now for . . .
Elizabeth Berentson*

Liz's "sensible cooperation," and level-headed capability helped her secure the position of Assistant Editor on the yearbook staff. Liz is a happy-go-lucky person who always has a friendly smile. She is admired for her quick wit and happy disposition by those who know her.

*And Now for . . .
Kenneth Fate*

"Responsible" and "considerate" are only two words that describe Ken. He has taken part in various activities and won the respect and admiration of his classmates and teachers. His leadership is apparent as he is the President of the Science Club, and Editor of the yearbook. With his scholastic ability, he has earned a place in the National Honor Society.

And Now for Something Completely Foreign

Well, Not Quite So Foreign

Soccer, snow skiing, basketball, ping pong, and tennis are just some of the hobbies that Ricardo Mairal, a foreign exchange student from Spain, enjoys. He likes everything about LHS from the teachers and students to the dances and assemblies. Has Ricardo had any problems with the language? Well, when filling out an insurance form, he signed on the line that declared himself deceased!

Leather carving and pistol shooting are two hobbies that Birgitte Poder had picked up during her stay here in Lewiston. A native of Denmark, Birgitte's favorite foods are two of America's favorites: pizza and hamburgers. One of the main differences she notices between the USA and her homeland is getting a drivers licence. In Denmark, a person has to be eighteen and pay up to four hundred dollars for a drivers license.

Lockers and cheerleaders are new things to lanthe Bussink, a foreign exchange student from Utreeht, Holland. lanthe say they have neither of these things in Dutch schools. Also, she is in the same classroom everyday and her classes are on a weekly schedule instead of a daily schedule. Some of lanthe's new favorites from the USA are cheese pizza, corn-on-the-cob, and drive-in movies.

These are our faculty members. As we come to know these people, we find they are completely different from the opinions we first formed of them. Each one is outstanding in his own particular area; each one becomes an important, though not necessarily praised, part of our days. We students are truly lucky to have such a varied and dedicated faculty to work with us!

Bengal Football

*"We win as one;
we lose as one."*

The varsity football team finished for the second straight year with a winning record. Four of their five "non-victories" came against teams ranked in the top five of the state. The Bengals finished 1-1 in league play and posted impressive victories over Clarkston and Moscow. The Bengals, under coach Jay Henry, had every right to be proud of their 1983 season.

Coach Trigsted stressed team unity — "We win as one; We lose as one."

Coach Mann guided the team with silent leadership — so silent that we don't have a quote from him.

Coach Antablian motivated the players to frenzied heights — "This is a good day to get hurt."

J.V. Football

The Bengal J.V. Football team was headed by Coaches Hanson and Wicks. Although their win/loss record wasn't very impressive, it didn't reflect the teams overall season.

The young team showed a lot of drive and gave each and every game their best efforts. Players with this type of attitude will greatly contribute to the varsity team next year.

Manpower was a major reason for the surprising upset the underclasswomen pulled against a well-coached senior team. The seniors lost two major players shortly before the game. The team also lost many girls who were dedicated to making homecoming a success.

The officiating was against the seniors from the start to the finish. Three of the officials are parents of the underclassmen. The poor lighting hampered the passing attack of the senior team and they had to make a late game plan change.

The senior team played with guts and class with everyone seeing action all the way to the finish. Even then the underclassmen coaches put in their first offense with less than two minutes left to run up the score.

Powderpuff '83

Point — Counterpoint

The pre-game preparation of the coaching staff and the overwhelming raw talent of the underclassmen resulted in an unbeatable combination.

This well-oiled underclassmen machine rolled over the seniors with relative ease. The seniors being outplayed on the field and out coached on the sidelines were practically eliminated by halftime.

While the underclassmen offense roared up and down the field, the stingy defense didn't give the seniors room to breathe. Chalk up an impressive victory for one awesome underclassmen team.

The LHS volleyball team had a new look this season under first year coach Thera Follett. With hard work and enthusiasm they molded themselves into a competitive improved team. Losing only three players to graduation they have a strong nucleus returning next season.

The junior varsity team had a very productive season and showed they have some players with quality talent that will move up to the varsity level next year.

The 1984 volleyball season looks very promising for coach Follett and LHS volleyball fans alike.

X-Country

The strongest program in LHS athletics over the past years has been Cross-Country. This year was no exception. Undeclared in dual meets for the past 5 years, the boys' varsity won the region and finished 3rd at the state meet. The boys' JV was undefeated in dual meets also, as were the girls. Head Coach Rich Brunmeier was aided this season by assistant coach Rick "slave driver" Tomlinson and the experienced team captains.

Rod Hinman and Walt Williams, both 4 year lettermen, headed up the team. Rod set a course record at the regional meet and Walt, finished his LHS career with a strong performance at the state tournament. Barb Endebrock and Chris Hasenoehrl were co-captains on the girls' squad.

Wrestling is easily the most grueling sport at L.H.S. Each Bengal wrestler spent many an hour lifting weights and doing exercises to prepare their bodies for the physical side of wrestling. It is a common misconception that wrestling is just a battle of brute strength.

Not true, wrestling is actually a very technical sport. Each wrestler also spends countless hours in the wrestling room practicing their technicalities, under the supervision of Coach Bull.

All this work paid off as the L.H.S. "technicians of pain" despite being a very young team, had an outstanding season. The L.H.S. wrestlers were led by senior Shannon Skogrand.

... Another Winning Season

The J.V. basketball team had another typical Jay Henry season, with a winning record and in strong contention for a league championship; Their first league game resulted in an overwhelming victory at Sandpoint. Matt Ailor then buried two pressure free throws at CDA with only seconds remaining to give the Lewiston team a cliff-hanger victory and a 2-0 record in league action. The 13 man squad was composed of an excellent group of returning juniors and a solid group of sophomores. The hard work in daily practice stressed by Coach Henry and Captain Mike Moscrip became evident on many occasions, as the young Bengals retained their poise and finished the 1983-84 season strong, as usual.

BENGAL BASKETBALL

The varsity girls began the season with high hopes and a new coach. Dennis Sheron is no stranger to coaching, having coached boys at the freshman level in previous years. As the season progressed, the girls pulled together. Vastly improving each game the Ben-Gals finished the season a very formidable team.

They Battled Against All Odds

Despite unbelievable odds the girls' J.V. team managed to hang together and make L.H.S. proud of them. They were forced to practice at the local Girls' Club, to allow the other L.H.S. basketball teams time to practice. The fan support was appreciated, but there wasn't nearly enough of it. They played an exciting style of basketball. Congratulations to Coach Byington and the rest of the girls' J.V. team for an exceptional season.

The People in Charge

Runners . . . Jumpers . . . Throwers . . . L.H.S. Track

Run, jump, twist, throw! No, we're not in the school lunch line, we're at track practice. Because tracks involves such a wide variety of skills, from endurance to strength, it attracts a variety of people. No matter how different these people are, they all share a common goal, to do their best in their respective events. Under the leadership of Coach MacDowell they have done an excellent job of reaching that goal and representing LHS.

Grand Slam

The LHS guys baseball team isn't the only game in town during the spring months. The Ben-Gal softball team also runs the bases, swings the lumber, and scoops the grounders with Bengal pride. The Ben-Gals have the talent and experience that most coaches only dream about. With their first year coach, Mrs. Bennett, the team is prepared for the season.

Baseball Fever?

L.H.S. Has It! L.H.S. Has It!

Hey sport fans, did you know that baseball is the most popular sport in Lewiston. Known state-wide for our baseball excellence, L.H.S. has almost become a fixed figure in the state tournament. Hoping to better last year's third place finish, the L.H.S. team worked hard during the early weeks of the season despite unusually wet weather. The team started slowly, but managed to get on track early. The sky is the limit for this year's L.H.S. mighty baseball team.

Tennis Players

Take It to Court!

Many L.H.S. students have gone out to play a fun little game of tennis. But these students are different. They don't play "fun little games." These folks play a brutal form of the sport. The serves are at breakneck speeds and actually have to go in the silly little square. And get this, these players can actually hit a backhand that doesn't fly over the fence. Tennis is a tough sport indeed but the students seem to have it aced!

Fore!

Coach Murphey

Four scores and seven putts ago these distinguished voyagers of the fairways began their all encompassing trek. Against every conceivable deterrent they refused to succumb. Sand traps? No problem! Water hazards? They're for the geese. Ball washers? Side stepped with ease. With this skill our warriors of the turf played their way to glorious victories.

Hello!

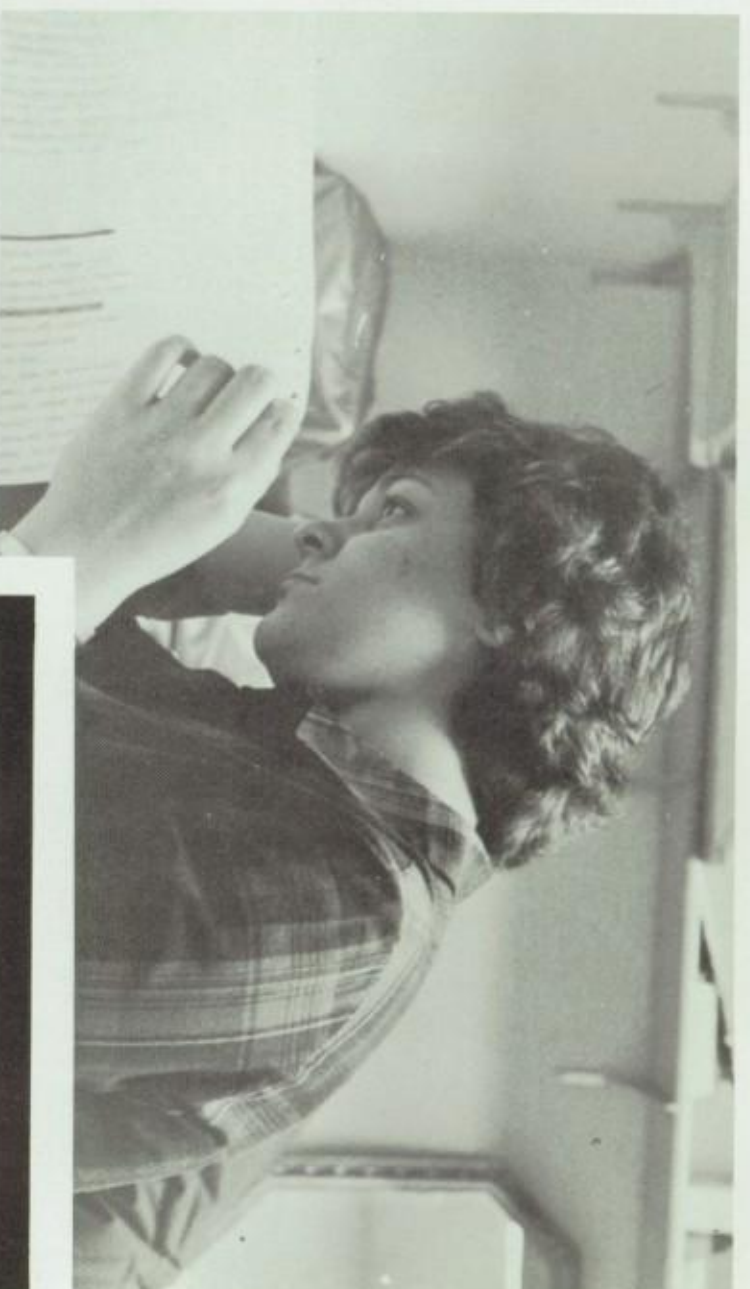

I'm Bill Beaumont, a die hard reporter that likes to get to the bottom of any story. When asked if I would cover the various clubs of L.H.S. Here it is kiddies, the story everyone has been asking me for! Bill Beaumont here with the toughest assignment the big guy has given me to date: an indepth scoop on the Yearbook Staff. The toughest part will be going undercover so the Yearbook Staff will not know they are being infiltrated. Clang! Clang! Clunk! Prew! These back stairs by Mr. Ostrman's room are steep. As you can see (I mean hear) I'm wearing a garbage can with holes cut out in the bottom so I can walk. It probably would have helped if I had cleaned it out. Oh, well, we reporters do have to go through some unbearable situations to get a story. At Mr. O's door now, I can hear the staff working diligently. Should I go in? Why not? They'll never notice a mild-mannered garbage can clanking around the room.

In the room now, my eyes can make out scattered groups of people. My ears can hear the golden melody of George Thorogood blaring from the stereo, and my nose can smell last week's hot lunch, chicken fried steak. I think I'll just saunter over here by this first group of staffers. Looks like the low life of the staff. Yup, it certainly is. Ann, Lyle, Julie, Kathy, and the real scum Art, Ray, Duane and Drew. Let's listen in on their conversation.

"Art, you've got a nose dangler!" Enough of that conversation, let's nosy over to the group in the corner. This looks like an intelligent group. Ken, Michele, Mikki, John, and well, maybe not that intelligent. Liz is there, too.

"Will one of you fools pass the cropper?" (That's staff talk for a ruler).

"Go get it yourself!" I guess at one in the morning some people get a little late. Here's a group of girls that look like they would go for the strong silent type like me. Andrea, Kim, Chris and Chris.

"Did you see that new teacher? What a hunk!" Hunk, schmunk! I make that joker look like a carpet mine! Now here is a group of my kind of people. Photographers. Rick, Tim, and Jolynn. (What a talented bunch).

"O.K., gang, tell the clubs no more pictures with stupid little V's behind their heads."

What a great trio! Well, what do you know, there's Mr. Ostrman. Let's see what he's doing.

"#%$ computer! What's that disgusting odor? Hey, who let that goofy looking garbage can in here? Look! It's Bill Beaumont! He's heard everything we said. Get him before he gets out with a story on us!"

Oh, oh, I had better run before they take a grease pencil after me (another yearbook term). Sorry, I couldn't get a better story, devoted Yearbook readers, but I have to run. Literally! Signing off, Bill Beaumont

Bill Beaumont here with another major assignment from the big guy. The task: to find out what the initials ASB stand for.

From extensive research and questioning, I have found that the culprits behind this infamous three letter word (ASB) can be found in room 110 with their ring leader, RAM (another three letter word).

Here we are in room 110 face to face with RAM! (Actually he looks like quite a nice fellow). So, RAM, what does ASB stand for?

"Well, Bill, the ASB is represented by four Seniors, chosen by their peers for their respective positions.

Yes, RAM, that's very interesting, but what does ASB mean?

"Bill, officers are in charge of some of the Homecoming affairs. They also put out the High School Telephone Directory."

Telephone directories are nice, but what does ASB stand for?

Well, the ASB officers represent specific wishers of the students here at L.H.S. In other words, they represent the Associated Student Body.

There you have it, students! ASB means Associated Student Body."

Signing off, this has been Bill Beaumont.

Hi, this is Bill Beaumont, ace reporter, sitting in with the Yearbook Staffers. Currently they are arguing over who must do the chores. They obviously fail to debate with any class at all. Maybe they could use some tips from the Debate Team . . .

The ability to express themselves in a polite manner has been a plus for the debaters. The team members must be aggressive, steadfast, and possess an unyielding personality. Debaters also love to have the last word.

So do reporters. This has been Bill Beaumont, ace reporter.

Boys' State

Dateline — Sunday 1 a.m. Not knowing their fate for the next six days, these thirteen innocent, sleepy-eyed lads aboard the Winnemucca bus headed for Boise. After an eleven hour voyage on a bus that reeked of odors only a bathroom could love, our troops enter Boise with forty other naive Idahoans. Donning their official Boys' State garb (a white T-shirt with blue gibberish printed on the front) our representatives entered the world of Boys' State. After listening to thirty-six thousand hours of speeches crammed into six days, spending two days at the state capital, and trying to spend as little time as possible in the cafeteria, our troops did have enough time to make friends. With the end of the tense week our naive troops aren't just boys. They are official: "Boys' State Alumni." The relaxing, quiet bus ride home gives our lads time to reflect on their interesting week. Was it well worth it? In the eyes of Bill Beaumont that week will be long cherished by our twelve Boys' Staters.

Girls' State

It was a late Saturday evening, or should I say early Sunday morning. There I was, Bill Beaumont, boarding a Greyhound bus. What was I doing, you ask? Well, with me on this bus were five gorgeous, brilliant, young ladies. To my surprise, these fair maidens were chosen as Girls' State Citizens. I was truly honored to be aboard the same bus as these young ladies. We arrived in Nampa, Idaho, Sunday afternoon at the campus of the highly acclaimed Northwest Nazarene College. After a week of lectures, dinners, skits, and guest speakers the ladies were ready for the capital. As all 280 of the ladies lined up on the stairway of the capital to have their almost famous portrait taken, I began to think, "Oh no, tomorrow all of these attractive women will have to go back to their own cities." It made me depressed. The next day was a sad good-bye. Meeting girls from all over the state and becoming best friends and having to leave — yes, it was too short of a trip. Back on the bus and heading to Lewiston, the same five beautiful, alert young ladies were now teary eyed and very sad. It was an assignment that won't be forgotten. This is Bill Beaumont signing off, but waiting patiently for next year's set of Girls' Staters.

O.E.A.

TYPE TYPE TYPE "Shh . . . oooh!" Hello folks! Bill Beaumont here, reporting from the typing room. You don't have to be able to type or to write in squiggles to join OEA — all you need is one semester of any business-type class and lots of spirit! Office Education Association is a national organization for those students preparing for work in the business world — or those who are interested in the business world. OEA has a regional, state, and national competitions. So far no one from Lewiston has made it to state — but they're getting better! And guys — OEA is not just for women. Well! Maybe I'll join.

Another idea that really hits "home" year after year, is the making and selling of crafts.

MACHINISTS CLUB

Bending metal . . . screeching drills . . . flying sparks. The action is heavy here at the Machine Shop. The folks in Machinists' Club are kept busy throughout the year working on their lathes, drills, and planers. These active club members are also kept busy outside the shop. They usher at basketball tournaments, music festivals, plays, and other events held at LHS. The Machinists' Club is often the largest contributor to the Christmas food drive, gathering hundreds of food items. The biggest event of the year for the club is its Open House. The community is invited for tours of the work areas and displays of projects. Huh, I wonder if they would let me display the shoeshine kit I made — the Beaumont Buffer?

KEEPING THINGS GOING

This is Bill Beaumont, reporting from the Auto Shop. It looks like an industrious bunch of workers in here. Excuse me, young man. Why, that looks like an incredible engine under that hood. Could you tell me what's happening in here?

"Sure, Bill, my name's Danny Ellis and I'm rebuilding this car you see here. By the time I get done with it, it will be a real muscle car." Looks like difficult work, Dan.

"It really is. To word on any car you have to know all about that car. The engine, the circuitry, all that. These new cars with electrical chips and computerized circuitry are really a change, but we're working on 'em." Well, that sounds like a rewarding job, Dan.

"Yea, it is. Especially the pay."

By the way, Dan, how much are you asking for that one?

Hey! You've got guacamole on your nose! Yea, you. This is Bill Beaumont coming to you from a Spanish Club nacho party. It has been said that food from these Spanish parties has been found months later in unthinkable places. But Spanish Club members don't just have parties. This year they challenged the French Club in a teeth-baring fight to the cream puff volleyball match. They even took a trip to the Foreign Language Festival in Moscow, a rumor is spreading that it was a fun learning experience. Is that possible? Adios everyone, I've got to go and find more bean dip.

The funds they raised were used for an all-day jaunt to the University of Idaho. The club also ordered T-shirts; however, it's been said the Science Club's greatest accomplishment is the incredibly tasty s'mores sold at one of their bake sales. This has been Bill Beaumont with another in depth report. Hey, what did you put in these brownies?!

Bengal Aides

This is ace reporter, Bill Beaumont, here. I'm in the hallways at LHS where there are just scores of beautiful young ladies decorating lockers. Let's talk to one of these young ladies. "Hello, Miss, may I have a few words with you?"

"I'm very busy"

"This will just take a moment."

"All right."

"You seem very devoted."

"Oh, yes. We Bengal Aides have to be able to keep the morale of our runners and wrestlers high."

"You don't say."

"Yes, I do. We creatively decorate their lockers with crepe paper and tin foil. We bake our boys cakes and cookies and all sorts of good things."

Well, that's fine. You said runners and wrestlers?

"Yes, we are the guardian angels for the cross-country and wrestling teams."

"Well, thank you for all the information. You know, I used to be a pretty fair runner myself..."

This is Bill Beaumont once again from inside an LHS hallway. I've been noticing many extraordinary lockers standing out from the rest. Ah, here is a young lady. Miss, could you tell me why you're spending so much time decorating lockers?

"Fer sure. I'm doing it for those gorgeous athletes."

"What makes you put out so much effort?"

"A football player's marvelous ability, a basketball player's amazing agility, not to mention all those delicious muscles."

"Well, you sure do a terrific job. What makes it worthwhile to you?"

"A stupendous smile, adoringly lit up eyes..."

"Well, thank you. I've got to be going now."

Pssst. Over here. Sshh. The tension is so thick in here you could put it in a bowl. A high school bowl that is. (Heh, Heh!) The Lewiston Bowl Team (it should be clarified that this bowl team scores with correct answers, not strikes and spares) is taking on yet another onslaught of wordly questions. What is the capital of Sri Lanka? What is blennophobia? Who is the star of Chic Young's comic strip? Before the wheels of this reporter's mind began to turn, the questions had been answered and the points registered. Ace reporter Bill Beaumont chalks this group up as really keen.

Lettermen's Club

Live, at what looks like the scene of an organized riot, this is Bill Beaumont doing an in depth look at the Letterman's Club. I'll just sort of mingle and ask a question or two. Oh, there's someone who looks important. I'll talk to him. Excuse me, sir, may I ask you a few questions? O.K. Who are you? What does the club stand for? And ... who cuts your hair?!

"Well, Bill, I'm Bob Yeoman, sometimes called Ranger Bob. Have I ever done my Ranger Bob imitation for you? It goes something like this — "Hello, Yogi and Booboo. What ya' doing' — "Excuse me, Bob, but knock it off!"

"Oh sorry, Bill. Well, I'm the club advisor. As for the club, it's full of a great bunch of kids. These kids spend 2-3 hours a day after school at their respective varsity sports and do their darndest to represent our school. Though our Lettermen's jackets are blue and white and our school colors are purple and gold, most people really can't tell the difference. Also, what makes our athletes special is that they can spell. Get it? Lettermen — spell? Ha! Ha! Ha!"

Gee, Bob, that's great. Well, folks, there you have it, the scoop on Lettermen's club. Signing off — Bill Beaumont!

"Serving you with a smile"

Hey folks, it's me again your favorite Yearbook reporter, Bill Beaumont! Right now I have the privilege of investigating one of the very refined and reserved organizations of Lewiston High School. It seems to be a mysterious club because no one really knows what they do. However, I know just the person to ask . . . Here she comes now, the very sophisticated captain of L-Cube herself. Hello Jill.

"Hello Bill!"

Say, Jill, our readers are curious to know what your club is all about.

"Well, Bill, L-Cube, officially known as the Lewiston Loyalty Leaguers is simply a service club. We are involved in many activities, which occur here at our outstanding school."

How does a person become a member of L-Cube?

"Each girl must be a senior and have an accumulated grade point average of 3.0. She must also be involved in at least three extra-curricular activities."

What type of leadership does the club have?

"I hold the position of captain and I have two lieutenants and a librarian. We also have a devoted advisor."

Well, Jill, it sounds as though you've got yourself a successful organization. Good luck and so long. This is reporter Bill Beaumont finishing up one more great job of reporting to you from inside the halls of Lewiston High.

KLHS

This is Bill Beaumont here, coming from a very singular spot in the state of Idaho. Yes that's right, the KLHS radio station! Although there are now many high school radio stations spread out within the United States, KLHS is the only one located in Idaho. The staff members are capable of performing all the responsibilities of a professional disc jockey, except making commercials. Because the station is an educational system it is not allowed to run commercials in order to raise money. They do advertise for non-profit organizations such as churches and schools. Like any other well-run station, the staff includes news, programs, sports, and music directors. Watching over the entire staff is a reliable individual referred to as the student director. The KLHS-radio station has produced sixty D.J.s who are making a life career on the radio. To become eligible for the KLHS staff a young hopeful must first take a Radio class offered by advisor Jack McGhee. Members of the staff also have opportunities to interview celebrities. Several of these famous personalities are Senator George McGovern, Cecil Andrus, Charles Bronson, and me!

Actually he's an ape there is a difference as Marlin Perkins will point out. Thespians are the topic of discussion for today because today is their initiation. One aspect of initiation is dressing up in costumes and wearing them to school for all their classmates to see. So, you see, our ape is just a human like you and I. Or at least I. I doubt if emptiness will feed this, but, if you do, you'll laugh, or you won't understand it. But it's to you, all of you. I cut my hair straight, dropped my glasses + changed my outfit. High school got really close + Dr. Am and all the others can have their valediction sitting (no offense) The world will end in the year 2000. A world filled with depravity, perversity and godlessness. Where Animals like Motley Crew, advocates of the devil, feed off confused kids. The next man we have for President of the U.S. will be a regime liberal or a blithering idiot of a Republican. Morally we've gone down the toilet hole will be the Anti-Christ. Don't take the bait. God willing, you won't see Armageddon. Prepare for the rapture. Be an idealist, we corrupted world like law, sharing, caring and hope. Say goodbye to this beautiful world as you know it. Goodbye, Lewiston, H. LYLE HAKE, JR.
